Winner shall be responsible for any applicable federal, state, and local income or excise taxes, fees, assessments and like charges associated with the prize. The IRS has taken the position that amounts paid for chances to participate in raffles, lotteries or similar programs are not gifts and, therefore, the price of the entry does not qualify as a deductible charitable contribution.

IMPORTANT: Federal law requires that corresponding tax withholding on prize values more than $5,000 must be collected from winners upon award and distribution. Federal and state withholding laws are subject to change without notice. The withholding laws in effect at the time prizes are claimed will be followed. Before claiming a prize valued at $5,000 or greater, the winner will provide RMHCCNAZ with their name, address, social security number, and a check payable to Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central and Northern Arizona in the amount calculated for tax withholding (withholding percentage of the fair market value of the prize less the cost of the raffle ticket), which will be paid directly to the Internal Revenue Service. Winner must also sign Form W-2G. If prize winner is unable to comply with payment of the required withholding amount, the result is condition for denial of the prize.
